

A lot of elderly people have issues with the complexity of new technology.
(Many do not understand how to use new phones and new smart home tools)